

A quest for answers

a video series by Wenilie L. Ferraris

placement student at the AECEO (Winter 2025)

- * What happens when the prime minister steps down?
- * What does a prorogued parliament mean?
- * How do these developments affect the early learning & child care sector?

AECEO
student blog

aeceo.ca/student_blog

The AECEO is pleased to share A quest for answers, a video series created by Wenilie Ferraris. Join AECEO placement student Wenilie Ferraris on her quest to better understand the Canadian electoral system, the current context and how these developments affect early childhood educators, ECE students and the child care sector. Wenilie Ferraris completed a placement with the AECEO in the winter of 2025 as part of the Early Childhood Education program at George Brown College.

- Part 1 - What happens now?
- Part 2 - What is prorogued parliament?
- Part 3 - What's the electoral system in Canada?
- Part 4 - What are the impacts on the child care sector?

Please note: This placement block ended on Feb 21st, 2025. Some information might be outdated/incomplete by the time this project is shared on the AECEO Student Blog. AECEO membership supports a strong collective voice for ECEs! Become a member today! You can also follow & engage with the AECEO on Instagram & Facebook to support our work.